Dear valued contributors,

The journey of hope we embarked on together has showcased the power of collective effort. Each of you has supported a noble idea: providing education to our orphaned students and helping them build a brighter future.

Over the past week, your contributions were not mere acts of charity, but they made a real difference in the lives of orphans, leaving a positive impact on them.

Here are the results of the "Little by Little" campaign, which began on the 18th of September and ended on the 22nd of the same month, organized by our partner GlobalGiving, which included a 50% match on donations ranging from 10$ to 50$

These donations will be allocated to provide educational and knowledge services to 16 orphaned students for an entire year, from ninth-grade students to high school seniors.

These services include:

- School Education: Providing students with online education covering the curriculum for ninth and twelfth grades in both literary and scientific branches. This will be done through daily interactive and recorded lessons delivered by trained teachers, adhering to global quality standards.
- Student Activities: Supporting the discovery of students' talents and strengthening their skills through various programs, recreational activities, and summer clubs overseen by educators and specialists
- Academic Advising: Assessing the students' academic and professional interests and guiding them toward available opportunities that align with their potential and aspirations.
- Vocational Training: The program will provide beneficiaries with training and qualification for remote work professions, ensuring their independence and a decent livelihood.

Furthermore, all the lessons and knowledge courses for these three programs will be converted into revised and edited videos, which will be made available on our YouTube channel. This will serve as an ongoing educational resource for all students and beneficiaries in Syria and other Arab countries, adding a lasting impact to your donation.
